IB Geography Fieldwork in Barcelona

Barcelona
Field Studies
Centre

www.geographyfieldwork.com

Barcelona Field Studies Centre offers fully inclusive Geography, Biology, Environmental and Tourism field study programmes to schools and colleges throughout the year.

A range of physical and human field study locations, unrivalled in Europe, can be found in Barcelona and the surrounding area.

The Centre offers:

- Inclusive courses tailored to specific syllabus needs, at all levels including IB, GCE and GCSE
- An extensive range of maps, worksheets and fieldwork equipment to complement coursework
- Highly experienced Centre staff
- A range of study options
- Information support for pre and post visit studies
- A range of sightseeing and recreational options

Study Themes

The city of Barcelona presents a fascinating case study of many of the major themes of urban growth and development, including urban renewal schemes which are widely recognised as best-practice. The Barcelona region contains a number of spectacular and unspoilt Natural Parks, with a wide variety of study sites.

IB Study Options include:

- Freshwater issues and conflicts*
- Oceans and their coastal margins*
- Leisure, sport and Tourism*
- Urban Environments*

Geography course options:

Programmes can be arranged which complement the work undertaken in the classroom and which meet the demands of the curriculum at all levels.

We offer two course types:

Centre-taught courses: Led by Barcelona Field Studies Centre staff with specialist knowledge and fieldwork expertise who, after prior negotiation of course content, take full responsibility for teaching the course. Your active involvement is strongly encouraged, whether in contributing to the teaching, supervising and assisting the students or in allocating students and staff to the most appropriate small working group. One or more evening tutorials are also included, dependent on the length of your course and your preferences. Maps, worksheets and course materials are provided as appropriate.

Centre-assisted courses: Tuition is shared between Barcelona Field Studies Centre teaching staff and you each day. The programme is normally designed and led by you with a Barcelona Field Studies Centre member of staff assisting during the work in the field. There are no included evening tutorials.

Both options include the provision and use of geography fieldwork equipment and Health and Safety advice.

Accommodation

Accommodation is provided in one of a selected number of quality hotels or lodges, in one of several resorts along the Catalonian coastline, including Sitges, Calafell and Castelldefels. Your accommodation provides a comfortable teaching base from which to undertake fieldwork in the surrounding area. Full board or half board can be provided.
